

Corine Marseille

City: Amsterdam

Age: 47

I graduated in cultural anthropology in the 1980s and have worked in the past as a researcher at the University of Amsterdam.

For the last ten years I have worked as a community worker in Amsterdam and Zaandam.

At this moment I work for a local welfare organisation in Zaandam (called Welsaen). In my work I help local groups with organising themselves, e.g. in urban renewal projects.

Further, as a volunteer I do actively participate in an umbrella organisation in my own neighbourhood, GWL-terrein in Amsterdam. Our organisation offers tours for groups that are interested in architecture, sustainability, car free projects, etc. Groups that visit us, come from all over the world.

Themes I am interested in are: urban renewal/urban planning, sustainability and social liveability of neighbourhoods. I am also interested in questions of mobility and road safety, esp for cyclists.